

RSVP

SAN JOSE MAGAZINE PRESENTS THE

For the third year, San Jose Magazine and Wells Fargo teamed up to present The Legacy Awards, a joint effort designed to honor individuals and families that use their wealth to benefit the surrounding community and society as a whole. In giving this recognition, the goal is to inspire others to take steps that will result in similar meaningful results. At the 2004 event, held at The Fairmont San Jose, two awards were presented.

Above: Top row: Bill Brandenburg, Eric Brandenburg, Pauline Yore, Lee Brandenburg, Mike Hackworth, Gilbert Sangari, and Mike Cole. Bottom row: Kristy Brandenburg, Johnna Skubis, Diane Brandenburg, Ysabel Duron, Joan Hackworth, and Karen Brandenburg. Right: Dennis Nahat, artistic director of Ballet San Jose Silicon Valley, and Ysabel Duron, of KRON 4. Left: Mike Cole, of Wells Fargo. Below: Mike Cole, of Wells Fargo; Joan and Mike Hackworth, recipients of a 2004 Legacy Award; and Gilbert Sangari, publisher of San Jose Magazine.

THIRD ANNUAL LEGACY AWARDS

CELEBRATING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF VALLEY BENEFACTORS

The family award went to the Brandenburg family. Diane and Lee Brandenburg have given money to over 200 local nonprofits and serve on several boards of local charitable organizations. To further their commitment to giving, they founded the Brandenburg Family Foundation in 1997. Lee, Diane, and their four children, Eric, Karen, Bill, and Gary, sit on the foundation's board of directors.

PRESENTING SPONSOR

WELLS
FARGO

Above: Gilbert Sangari, publisher of San Jose Magazine; Diane and Lee Brandenburg, recipients of a 2004 Legacy Award; and Mike Cole, of Wells Fargo. Above right: The event was held at The Fairmont San Jose. Below: Ysabel Duron, of KRON 4.

The individual award went to Joan and Mike Hackworth. Mike is the founder and chairman of Cirrus Logic, which ranks as one of the Valley's fastest growing tech companies. He and Joan use their wealth to support The Tech Museum of Innovation, Ballet San Jose Silicon Valley, and Santa Clara University.

Left: Gilbert Sangari, publisher of San Jose Magazine, and Mike Cole, of the event's presenting sponsor Wells Fargo. Below: Gilbert Sangari, publisher of San Jose Magazine; Pat Dando, vice mayor of San Jose; Bob Dando; and Bill Baron.

